40 years after his last adventure, we meet Corentin Feldoë once again against the Indian backdrop Paul Cuvelier was so fond of. Spending his days peacefully at the maharajah's court, the last thing Corentin expects is to be accused of stealing three legendary pearls. Now he must find the real thief or face justice by the sword. Joined for this instalment by a Christophe Simon in fine form, Jean Van Hamme rekindles his first love and Le Lombard returns to one of the cornerstones of his career in this adventure in pure comic book tradition.

In this series

Les Trois perles de Sa-Skya

Corentin chez les Peaux-Rouges
