Three cases, published between 1983 and 1990 in Spirou, and then in albums, starring Hyppolyte Finn, the most private detective of Hollywood of the 1950s. From luxury villas to cinema studios, he treads the classy streets of Beverly Hills in the search of some miscreants, some of them very distinguished. These three thrillers, re-edited in this black & white omnibus edition, are peppered with new developments, murders and betrayals.
