Most people would have fallen into depression after an accident such as the one that cost Lulu her mobility, but it's not her style. Also, nobody knows it, but she has an IQ of 200 and she's put it to good use, constructing a wheelchair like no other - Fred! Equipped with speech, retro-propulsion and wacky gadgets, this cranky robot is exactly what its diminutive passenger needs to get around and unravel the mysteries of her city, starting with a very strange epidemic of stolen dentures...
