RELEASE 06/05/2011

Kathleen is the last surviving member of the Longway family. Now that she is starting her own family, the young woman decides to write down some of her childhood memories. Her childhood was sometimes tough, but always filled with the love of her family. A genuine epilogue to Derib's saga, for the author, as well as for reader, this book represents an opportunity to look back and admire the sumptuous unpublished watercolours of the characters, as well as their inseparable companions, the horses.
