Sisco is a secret agent working for the French government, single-mindedly devoted to his work. Unfortunately for Sisco, a window-washer spots him and films a murder. Now, Sisco and his colleagues have one objective: to silence

This merciless pursuit will shake Sisco's self-confidence. Confronted with the sadism of his colleagues — who are even less scrupulous than he — the hardened killer will make the uncomfortable discovery that he has a conscience. To fight mad dogs, it takes a wolf.
