A group of colonists heading for the planet Aldebaran after an induced hibernation on their space vessel. A recorded message from the captain of the ship tells them that all the other passengers of the Tycho Brahe are dead, and that they are the only survivors. He also tells them that the space ship is programmed to land on an unknown planet. When they arrive in this hostile land, they have no choice but to gather their wits and work out how they're going to survive. They soon realize that they're going to have to face up to many dangers, some of which are even invisible. Among the survivors is Manon, a young woman who decides to take things into her own hands. She goes off to explore the planet, trying to get her bearings in this strange new place...
