The funny, off-the-wall parody of the Walking Dead. Eric wakes up in an empty hospital, he does not remember anything. These few minutes of coma have been terrible for him. Finally another human being appears (well, a slightly plump nurse)! At the other end of town, a professor inoculates a busty bimbo with a virus. The unfortunate man allows her to escape, thus triggering the end of the world. Eric's life is turned upside down. But first, he's going to grab a smoothie.
