Frances Scarland is a young legal assistant suffering from insomnia, taking her first tentative steps in the business world. Between personal problems and professional ambition, we follow the stresses and strains of a young woman who also has to deal with her meddlesome friend, Vicky, a budding actress. Given the position of helping the mysterious Castonguay, Frances finds herself in the thick of it at her legal practice, and is faced with a whole host of tiring, strange and sometimes Kafkaesque jobs. Frances provides a subtle glimpse into the growing pains of a young adult, while the protagonist Lin discovers that her everyday life might just stay the same forever.

In this comic, Lin encapsulates—with a keen understanding and subtlety—the doubts and anguish of a whole generation.
