Come discover the good life in down-home Nebraska! Or so they say. The truth is, everyone here is bored shitless. Does anyone still remember the little old town of Maple, and that awful candy, the "Maple Square"? Small caramel squares flavored with maple syrup, absolutely delicious — said the ads. Absolutely disgusting is more like it!

Anyway, since the candymaker shut down and became some kind of insane asylum, everything in town has gone to hell! It's true: Maple has become a godforsaken ghost town. As the sheriff would say, it's nothing but a heap of half-wits!

It's true, to stick around here, you'd have to have a few screws loose. Though a few tourists do pass through every now and then... And some even disappear! Bloody hell, maybe that explains those two FBI agents who just pulled up!
