July 18th, 1936. The young head of the Spanish Republican party, formed from an alliance of the different leftist groups, is toppled by General Franco's troops. The country is plunged into three years of civil war, followed by almost forty years of repressive dictatorship. For Isabel, a courageous young dressmaker, this would also be the start of a new life of fighting in the resistance. Having joined the anarchist syndicate the CNT, she soon has to flee her hometown along with her future husband, Jaime, one of the leaders of the local cell.

Chapitre 1

LA GUERRE A TROUVÉ ISABEL

“Il faut semer la terreur...
il faut laisser une sensation de domination en éliminant sans scrupules et sans hésitation tous ceux qui ne pensent pas
comme nous.”

Ordre émis par le général putschiste
Emilio Mola, le 19 juillet 1936.
