Across the city, a squad of "Janitors" is responsible for picking up trash, cleaning up the streets, repairing elevators... and killing the creatures that are attacking the city's residents! These caretakers are the guards of cleanliness, order, and purity!

One of these multitasking Janitors, Kathy Wilkes, is facing imminent danger, and learns that she doesn't have long to live. The problem is that her successor is a no-good neighborhood teen who thinks only of getting girls and lighting up. As the threat facing the city grows, the future of all will depend on this unlikely duo.
