Arthur has just moved to the valley of Mitaines, where all the inhabitants gain a power on reaching adolescence – albeit one of varying practicality. On his first day at his new school, Arthur learns that a student has mysteriously disappeared. His curiosity is piqued, and with the help of his new friends – the amusing Pélagie, the intriguing Kitsu, Gonzague, the genius of the group and his faithful companion Willo – he decides to track down the culprit.

In this series
