Fidel is part of the "Chosen ones," a special group of children selected by Miss Mako, the current head of the village who seeks a successor. She puts the children through a series of tests to separate the weak from the strong. One by one, they are eliminated. When the time finally comes to know who will replace Miss Mako, the village is attacked by the Degenerates, a group led by an old God who has kept his powers. Will Fidel and his friends be up to the task?
