Every child has dreamed of flying... every child except those on the run from the mad scientists of 'the School'. Max and her friends have undergone genetic experimentation designed to unite human and avian genes. They have since escaped from that nightmarish place, but now the youngest members of their Flock have been captured by the terrible 'Erasers' who work for the School, and it's up to Max to save them! But who can help this young woman in her quest...?
