Three characters, three paths, three destinies: intrigue and deception at the palace for Count Corto; a journey of discovery for his daughter Blanche; the road to redemption for resistance fighter Greem. Their three stories take place at the same time in the same place: the vast New Forest in the era of Neo-Feudalism. And while the protagonists lose their way, betray one another, fall in love, and tear each other apart, a terrible storm is brewing in the forest, where trees are starting to mutate...
