A brand new season of Aldebaran!

Manon, back on Earth, qualifies as a UN Special Agent.

Elsewhere in space, a station orbiting the Earth is watching with concern the arrival of a spacecraft of unknown origin that suddenly comes to a stand-still right above the planet. Strange inscriptions in English adorn the front door of the vessel's airlock.

Unable to make contact with this strange UFO, the UN calls up the special forces. Manon is assigned to this perilous mission, along with an elite troop of special agents. The mission objective is to make contact with the ship and try to board. However, when they make it onto the ship, things don't go as planned and the situation quickly gets out of hand... Fortunately for Manon, she can count on the help of an expert: Kim Keller.
