A guide to the Paris of Pablo Picasso's era, this album takes us on 7 walks through the places that marked the life of the most celebrated of painters. In Paris 1900-1908, Pablo Picasso lives out the years of his youth with his Spanish contemporaries. He discovers a town in a period of transformation, where he meets the great artists and poets of the 20th century. Somewhere between an art book and a tour guide, Neville Rowley, professor at Ecole du Louvre, takes us from broad daylight to underground haunts as he traces the painter's life in Paris at the dawn of the new century.
