This surprising album is the result of David Vandermeulen's entirely original approach. Under the amused and benevolent gaze of Tibet and Duchateau, he has created a brand new Ric Hochet adventure by rearranging panels from existing albums. The only liberties he has taken with the source material are zooming in and reframing the panels. This farcical adventure stays true to the tone of Ric Hochet, while bringing a new and untapped humour to the adventure series. A perfect example of a parody volume and a beautiful vintage book that will be a collector's item in the years to come.
