The award winning, long-running international hit follows the hilarious adventures of the iconic spies Sam, Clover, and Alex, three Beverly Hills girls who were hired as secret agents by WOOPH (the World Organization of Human Protection). These spies with attitude balance life at school with international espionage, juggling top-secret missions all over the world with school classes. Saving mankind from a dastrardly arch villain and passing that impossible algebra exam... it's all in a day's work for the super spies! They confront global rude behaviour wherever they find it and yet still make the prom on time!

Totally Spies has enjoyed global success and been broadcasted in over 190 countries.
