Besides being very pretty, intelligent and combative, Yoko Tsuno is an electronics engineer. This specialisation drags her and her friends Pol and Vic into adventures that are on the borderline between fantasy and science fiction. But whether she goes back in time to the city of Bruges in the 15th century or whether she confronts the dangers of the planet Vinéa, the young Japanese always remains faithful to herself, with a special interest for values such as loyalty, friendship and respect for life. A series full of action and reflection, magnificently documented and illustrated by Roger Leloup, the master in this genre.
